Telemedicine broadcasting made possible by The Joseph L. Rotman Institute of Science and Values at The University of Western Ontario and SACYHN (Southern Alberta Child and Youth Health Network)

Learning Objectives:

- To demonstrate the value of guidelines as a KT tool to facilitate quality improvement and action.
- To introduce you to the new international standard for guideline development, reporting and evaluation - the AGREE II.
- To discuss the new frontiers of the guideline research enterprise and its importance to KT research.
